SECOND SUNDAY OF ADVENT

In today's Gospel, we hear again the voice of John the Baptist. "Prepare a way for the Lord, make his paths straight." This is a call to repentance.

Repentance involves a determined turning away from sin and a full-hearted turning to God. Let us call to mind our sins, and ask the Lord to help us to overcome them. God wants no-one to be lost, but wants all to come to repentance.

Lord Jesus, you search us and you know us, all our ways lie open to you. Lord, have mercy. You keep an account of our wanderings and a record of our tears.

Christ, have mercy. You keep our feet from stumbling and our hearts from straying. Lord, have mercy.

John the Baptist was a prophet. We require prophets to live what they preach. When there is a wide gap between the message the prophet is preaching and the kind of life he is living, a shadow is cast over the authenticity of the message. John the Baptist was a living example of what he preached. Lord, we have the joy of belonging to your Kingdom. Grant that we may live in such a way that the blessings of the Kingdom will be evident in our lives.

Make peace with your past, so it won't screw up your future. What others think of you is less important than what you think of them.

Time heals almost everything. Give time time – and a wee push when necessary.

Avoid the pitfall of comparing your life with others – they are on their own journey.

Thinking is good. Over-thinking is not better. Action is best. Action gets results.

Don't put the key to your happiness in someone else's pocket. Smile. It lights up your eyes and brightens up the view!

There is no way to peace. Peace is the way. If you want peace of mind, stop fighting with your thoughts. Anger is the ultimate destroyer of peace. We can never obtain peace in the outer world until we make peace with ourselves. My heart forgives and releases. Inner peace is my goal. The life of inner peace, being harmonious and without stress, is the easiest type of existence.
